

SOAR TO HEALTH AND WELLNESS

SOAR to Health and Wellness is a multi-tiered program that includes standardized, accredited training that builds the capacity of individuals, organizations, and communities to apply a public health approach to address human trafficking. The program is designed for professionals in behavioral health, health care, public health, and social services settings. Developed by federal partners and leading experts, including survivors of trafficking, the SOAR framework uses the latest evidence to build practitioners' skills in identifying and responding to trafficking.

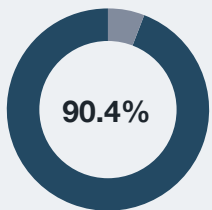

WHY TAKE THIS TRAINING?

Did you know? More than 67% of adult survivors of human trafficking report that they were seen by a health care provider during their trafficking experience. This means there were missed opportunities to identify and support survivors during and after their experience.

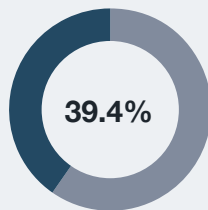

67.6%

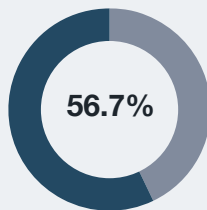

Since 2017, more than 58,000 people were trained. Three-month follow-up data showed:

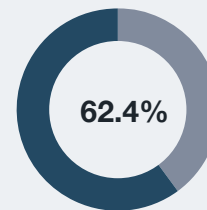

further developed skills and knowledge about serving victims of trafficking developed and enhanced vision, mission, or strategic plan with organization leadership integrated victim-centered, survivor-informed strategies improved their programs and practices

“ I appreciated the feedback from the survivors who were there and the bits of the stories they shared. It made our objective clearer and put a face to our pending policies. ”

—SOAR for Organizations, Nashville 2020

SOAR ONLINE

SOAR Online is a series of CE/CME training modules that you can complete whenever, wherever you like. SOAR Online is jointly provided by the Postgraduate Institute for Medicine and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.*

The modules are a collaboration between the Administration for Children and Families Office on Trafficking in Persons and the Office on Women's Health, supported by the National Human Trafficking Training and Technical Assistance Center.

SOAR Online modules are available in TRAIN and HealthStream. You may also request SOAR Online for your own learning management system.

Explore the SOAR eGuide — a complement to SOAR trainings – to learn more about how to address trafficking and access a variety of resources, including screening tools, organizational protocols, and ICD-10 codes.

OUR FOUNDATION MODULES

SOAR to Health and Wellness*

SOAR: Trauma-Informed Care*

SOAR: Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Services*

SOAR for Behavioral Health*

SOAR for Health Care*

SOAR for Public Health*

SOAR for Social Services*

SOAR for Native Communities

SOAR for School-Based Professionals

*CE/CME credit available

SOAR 201 LEVEL COURSES COMING SOON

SOAR for Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners

SOAR: Ethical Considerations

SOAR: Universal Education and Screening

BEYOND SOAR ONLINE

SOAR for Individuals:

Up to 3-hour training sessions available virtually and in person; CE/CMEs are available upon request for some trainings. The SOAR to Health and Wellness training is available in Spanish.

SOAR for Organizations:

Intensive 14-hour training and strategic planning sessions followed by personalized coaching for organizational leadership. Delivered in partnership with HEAL Trafficking and CommonSpirit, small leadership teams work collaboratively with peers to develop a protocol to identify and respond to trafficking in their organization. CE/CME credit not provided.

SOAR for Communities:

Intensive 10-hour training and strategic planning sessions followed by personalized coaching for multidisciplinary community stakeholders building a public health response to human trafficking. Equips stakeholders with tools to implement change. Available in English. CE/CME credit not provided.